

Creative Writing at Muswell Hill Primary School

At Muswell Hill Primary we love creative writing.

We are piloting a cross-year story writing project. On Monday we met to discuss ideas for a story. We gave the children the story title, picture and a caption that must be included somewhere in the narrative.

I told the children the introduction and build up to a story titled 'The Third Floor Bedroom'.

The children are then writing the problem, resolution and ending.

What would you have written? Here is the title, illustration and the caption – please see below.

Best wishes,

James Wiltshire - Headteacher
